

ANNA DODD

FULL-STACK WEB DEVELOPER

PROFILE

I am a Raleigh, North Carolina native and former educator turned web developer. As an elementary school teacher and later a Magnet Program Coordinator for an elementary Design and Computer Sciences program, I have had the opportunity to hone my design and digital marketing skills to improve communication with families, creating beautiful webpages that offer a great user experience. Currently, I am continuing to grow my skills in web development as a student in a Full-Stack Web Development bootcamp through UNC Chapel Hill.
